Ten Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, living near Fairfax Court House, on the fifth inst a negro girl, named NANCY; about 18 years old, rather tall than otherwise, tolerable likely, dark complexion, thin visage, full mouth, has no marks of the whip nor any other visible marks about her; took with her a new yarn frock, striped red and white; several frocks of calico, a new green muslin bonnet, and some other cloathing. I will give Ten Dollars reward for securing her in any gaol so that I get her again, and all reasonable charges if brought home. She has some connexions in Alexandria and Leesburg, perhaps she may make to one of those towns. I forewarn all persons from assisting her off, concealing or hireing of her.

A NEW NOVEL.

Just Published, and for Sale by
COTTOM & STEWART,
Price 1 Dollar,
GLENCARN; OR THE DISAPPOINTMENTS OF YOUTH, A NOVEL.

By George Watterston, Esq.
Of Washington City,
Author of the Lawyer and Child of Feeling.

The celebrity of this author's "LAWYER," and "CHILD OF FEELING" induced the publishers to engage in this work, and without detracting from the merits of the former, feel themselves justified in stating that his GLENCARN is superior to either. It is submitted without further recommendation, with a wish, that the American reviewers may give further encouragement to this young gentleman's endeavors to entertain instruct and moralize his fellow citizens, in a way seemingly well calculated to attract their attention.

Congress of the United States.

HOUSE OF REPRESEMTATIVES.

MR. EMOTT's SPEECH.

On Mr. Macon's bill on the motion to adhere.

[CONCLUDED.]

But why delay the repeal of the non-intercourse until we can hit upon a substitute, and what is to be the substitute? When we talk about submission, do we believe that the non-intercourse is resistance? Are we not well satisfied by this time that the system is only injurious to ourselves and have we not been told by the secretary of the treasury that the law is "inefficient and altogether inapplicable to existing circumstances?" Let it therefore be done away as speedily as possible. When gentlemen can agree on a substitute let it be brought forward as a distinct proposition, and the house and the nation will judge of it. Indeed sir, I dislike the involved mode of legislating which has been attempted in this case. When the embargo was to be done away its repeal was chained to the non-intercourse; and now when the non-intercourse is to be expunged from our statute books, its repeal is linked with a supposed navigation law. This kind of connection is too much like making a lot of goods which never before came together, that the good may carry off the bad.

I am aware that some gentlemen wish to procrastinate the repeal of the non-intercourse, because they expect information from Europe; but what information do they expect? Is it a repeal of the obnoxious orders and decrees? If so, the passage of the bill can have no influence, as the law cannot reach Europe until after the repeal. Is it necessary to hear how the British will receive the dismissal of their minister? We have already heard enough to satisfy us on this head. If the British cabinet after a view of the subject and during the period when their determination might be the result of passion, did not think of hostilities against us, do we yet expect a war with England? Why then delay the repeal?

Are these not reasons which should induce us to act promptly on this subject?—Every day we suffer to pass while the country remains thus shackled and bound, adds to the losses of our revenue, and I need scarcely add that our treasury is not now in a situation to bear losses. It is well ascertained that there is now at Amelia island and at Nova Scotia and Canada, great quantities of English goods which are run into the United States, and this smuggling will continue and encrease as long as an open entry is prohibited. It is not practicable to ascertain the extent of this illicit trade, but the amount of duties which we have lost by the non intercourse since the commencement of the session and since the secretary of the treasury recommended the "immediate attention" of the subject to us, is certainly many hundred thousands of dollars.

But the injury is not confined to the government; the merchant and the farmer are groaning under this heavy load. It is true that the restrictive system has almost produced a revolution in our mercantile men and in the manner of conducting business. But there yet remains some of our old traders who believing from the introduction of this bill that it was the intention of the legislature long since to have removed this deadly incubus, have made up cargoes for exportation. I dare not say how much I have been informed has already been sunk by these merchants, who regard your laws and deserve your protection, as the amount would appear scarcely credible, but I may say that the mere demurrage of vessels actually laden and ready for sea, and which wait the repeal of the non-intercourse, is not less than 8,000 dollars each day, and is probably much more.

The losses to the farmers are equally serious. The period has arrived when the persons engaged in agriculture who are not large capitalists must dispose of their produce as well to satisfy the demands of the last year, as to provide for the exigencies of the present. It is a duty we owe these people to give them the best market in our power, and it is a power we will perform unless we mean to press them to madness. If it is supposed that the repeal of the non-intercourse will not afford them better prices or a surer sale, I will simply point to what has happened while this law has been pending. Do we not know that produce has risen and fallen as it appeared by the proceedings of Congress that this bill would or would not pass?

But I will not longer trespass on the patience of the house, as I fear that my anxiety on this subject has already carried me too far. I conclude therefore with observing, that I shall vote against adhering, and for the bill as it now stands; and with a wish that the house may recede. I have done.

In the Senate of the United States,

April 4.

The Senate resumed the consideration of the bill for the establishment of a National Bank.

Mr. Bayard moved, among other amendments, the following new section to the bill making provision for the establishment of a National Bank, which were ordered to be printed, and the bill postponed till Friday next, and made the order of the day.

Sec. 3 And be it further enacted, That it shall be lawful for any person, co-partnership or body politic who now do or at any time within three years from the third day of March next, may hold stock of the present bank of the United States to subscribe within that period of time in the books to be opened at the city of Philadelphia for as many shares as he, she or they may hold of the capital stock of the bank of the U. S. and the shares so subscribed shall be payable either in gold or silver, or by the transfer and assignment of an equal amount of the stock of the said bank at the time of the subscription.

Sec. 16. And be it further enacted, That the incorporation of the subscribers to the bank of the U. States made and established by the act entitled "an act to incorporate the subscribers to the bank of the U. S." passed on the 25th day of Feb. A. D. 1791, shall continue, and the same is hereby continued, till the 4th day of March, A. D. 1814— the capital to be augmented to thirty millions of dollars.

The President laid before the Senate the following report of the Secretary of the Treasury made in pursuance of the resolution of the Senate of the 2d inst:

Treasury Department, April 3d, 1810.

SIR,

I have the honor to transmit a report prepared in obedience to the resolution of the Senate of yesterday.

I have the honor to be,
With great respect, sir,
Your obedient servant,
ALBERT GALLATIN.

To the hon. the President of the Senate.

REPORT.

The Secretary of the Treasury, in obedience to the resolution of the Senate of the 2d inst. respectfully REPORTS:—

That the statement annexed to the report made to the Senate on the 2d day of March, 1809, contained all the dividends made by the bank of the U. S. from its establishment to the date of the report, as stated to the Treasury by the bank.

That the annexed table (A) being a transcript of the above mentioned statement, with the addition of the dividends made on the first day of July, 1809, and on the 1st day of January last, embraces not only the ordinary semi-annual dividends of four per cent. but also all the extra dividends which are within the knowledge of this department, and which, it is believed, have ever been made by the bank; making in the whole, an average of 8 13-36 per cent. a year.

That there remained to the credit of the bank, after payment of the dividend made on the first day of January last, a surplus of 409,410 dollars, consisting of two items, viz: 125,000 dollars, designated by the name of "General Bank Estate," intended as an offset against the decay and presumed loss, in case of the sale of the real estate of the bank, that estate having been paid for from the capital stock, and not from the profits of the bank; and 284,410 dollars, designated by the name of "Contingent Fund," intended in the first place to cover losses arising from bad debts, not yet actually lost; and the residue of which, if any, will be applicable to another extra dividend.

That the nominal profits resulting to the bank from each of its offices of discount and deposit, could not be ascertained without an investigation of all the weekly returns made to this department; and that there are no returns from which the actual loss sustained by each office can be known.

But that the statement (B) shews the permanent capital given to each office of discount and deposit; the balance due in account current by the offices to the bank (exclusive and in addition to the said permanent capital) on the 27th day of March last; the amount of the notes actually discounted and due to the bank by the last returns, specifying the amount discounted at Philadelphia, and at each office respectively; and an estimate of the gross amount of the annual expences and losses of the bank, including its several offices, by which it appears that the annual expenses being about 125,000 dollars a year, the ascertained losses must in the whole have amounted to about 35,000 dollars a year.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ALBERT GALLATIN.

Mr. Bradley from the committee to whom was referred the bill for the preservation of peace and the maintenance of the authority of the United States in the ports and harbors of the United States, and in the ports, harbors, and waters under their jurisdiction reported it without amendment.

The senate resumed the consideration of the bill from the house of representatives, regulating the post-office establishment, and having further discussed, postponed its further consideration till to morrow.

Mr. Smith of Md. gave notice that he should to morrow, ask leave to bring in a bill to authorise the president of U. States, to employ the public armed ships in protecting the commerce of the U. States.

Mr. Lloyd summitted the following resolution for consideration:

Resolved, That the secretary of the department of war be, and he is hereby requested to prepare a system for improving the discipline of the militia of the U. States comprehending the infantry, cavalry, and artillery, and to report the same at the next session of congress.

The resolution for adjournment on the 22d of April, was read and passed to a second reading.

PHILADELPHIA, April 3.

FROM SPAIN.

Our Spanish papers by the Caledonia, do not contain any particular details of the progress or occurrences of the French army. It cannot however be concealed, that early in February, they were directly in the neighborhood of Cadiz, to which place the junta, accompanied by a large body of the most respectable inhabitants of Seville, had fled for refuge from the enemy. This increase of population, under circumstances of danger and alarm, had induced the government to issue the following edict:—

"CADIZ, Feb. 7.

"This island is surrounded by enemies, who are actively endeavoring to reduce it by cutting off the necessary supplies of wood, water and provisions. The people are hereby called upon to use their influence to invite and procure these supplies. The bakers are required to keep their men, who are exempt from public service, constantly engaged in their occupation. The inhabitants are likewise requested to deliver to the government all the superfluous iron bars, &c. to be converted into means of strength and defence against the enemy."

Although the contents of our Spanish gazettes indicates a crisis of peculiar trial, there is nothing in them which evinces despondency in the government or the people. In Cadiz particularly, a spirit of unconquerable patriotism and determined resistance is every where manifested.

MONDAY, APRIL 9.

The Senate have passed the resolution to adjourn Congress on the 23d instant —23 to 7.

By the Portia, we have received the Star, a London print of the 25th of January, the latest, probably, in the country. But 39 members attended in the House of Commone on the 24th of January, which was adjourned by the speaker, for want of a quorum.

American intelligence had been received to the 21st of December.

The resolutions offered by Mr. Macon, on the 15th of December, together with the most important of the proceedings of the House of Representatives of the 19th, taken from the National Intelligencer, containing an abstract of the provisions of the bill reported by Macon, are given.

An article from Constontinople states, that after the battle of Silistria the Russians applied for an armistice for two months, which was refused by the victorious Turks. The ex-king and queen of Sweden had arrived at Stralsund, on their way to Switzerland—French papers had been received at London to the 19th of January. The Star says

"We mentioned on Tuesday the arrival of an American gentleman from Calais with dispatches for Mr. Pinkney. His name is Caldwell, and the rumor in the political circle is, that he has brought intelligence that the French emperor has ordered the confiscation and sale of all American property in the ports of Spain, Italy and France; that general Armstrong was in great alarm in consequence of the state of affairs; besides which, report adds, that an order had been issued to prevent any Americans from quitting France.

"The gentleman alluded to states that he had been very ill used at Calais by the officers of the governmen, who took from him all his private letters, and were even proceeding to seize his dispatches, which he saved only by saying that they must first make him prisoner."

Congress of the United States.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

SATURDAY, APRIL 7.

[Taken for the Alexandria Gazette.]

Mr. Smilie's resolution laid on the table yesterday to adjourn until ten in the morning, instead of eleven, was called up and passed.

Mr. Newton from the committee of commerce and manufactures, reported a bill for the relief of Hugh Smith and others. Referred to the same committee to whom was referred the bill for the relief of Anthony Buck.

Leave of absence was asked and obtained for Mr. Chitteuden for the remainder of the session.

Mr. Eppes from the committee of ways and means, reported a bill to authorise the president of the United States to borrow a sum of money, not exceeding the interest of the public debt. Read twice and made the order of the day for Monday next.

MACON'S BILL—No. 2.

Mr. Macon from the committee on foreign relations reported the following:

A bill concerning the commercial intercourse between the U. States and G Britain and France, and their dependencies.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted, by the Senate and House of Representatives, of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That the third section of the act entitled an act to amend and continue in force certain parts of the act to interdict commercial interconrse between the United States and G. Britain and France, and their dependencies, and for other purposes be, and the same is hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That all the penalties and forfeitures which may have been incurred under the act last mentioned, or which may hereafter be incurred under so much thereof as is not repealed by this act, and until the expiration of the same —And also, all the penalties and forfeitures which may have been incurred under the act laying an embargo on all ships and vessels in the ports and harbors of the U. S. or under any of the several acts supplementary thereto or to enforce the same, or under the act to interdict the commercial intercourse between the U. S. and Great Britain and France, and their dependencies and for other purposes, shall be awarded and distributed, and may be remitted in the manner provided by said acts respectively, and in like manner as if the said acts had continued in full force and effect.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That in case either Great Britain or France shall before the third day of March next so revoke or modify her edicts as that they shall cease to violate the neutral commerce of the United States, which fact the president of the U. S. shall declare by proclamation, and if the other nation shall not within three months thereafter, so revoke or modify her edicts in like manner, then the 3d, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th & 10th, sections of the act to interdict the commercial intercourse between the U. States and G. Britain and France, and their dependencies, and for other purposes, shall from and after the expiration of 3 months from the date of the proclamation aforesaid, be revived and have full force and effect, so far as relates to the dominions, colonies and dependencies, and to the articles of the growth, produce and manufacture, of the dominions, colonies and dependencies of the nation thus refusing or neglecting to revoke or modify her edicts in the manner aforesaid.

The bill was read twice and made the order of the day for Monday next.

The bills ordered to a third reading yesterday were read and passed.

The house then, on motion of Mr. Rhea went into committeee of the whole on the post-road bill—Mr. Bassett in the chair.

The committee went through the post-routes to the state of North-Carolina and reported progress.

Mr. Taylor reported a bill to continue in force the Charter of the Bank of the United States for twenty years. Read twice and referred to a committe of the whole on Monday. Adjourned.

"To tell such woes who can refrain a tear."

In announcing to the public the death of an amiable and respectable character, we feel a pang commixed with pleasure—pain for a real loss, for such it really is—a pleasure in declaring to others the virtues whose exit we deplore—Like the angels of joy and grief concomitant, they at the same moment exalt and sink our spirits! To these ideas I am led in making it thus known, that on the 7th day of March, departed this life at Dipple, on the banks of the Potomac, in Stafford, MR. HAWKIN STONE. the elder, in the 63d year of his age. Unmerited praise too often deserves the epithet of flattery, while pleasing truths deserve applause. With truth we may justly say of Mr. Stone, that in every scene of life he was and is deserving of applause, or the warmest commendation. As a man, just, honest, correct and punctual, in his dealings—as a parent, was attentive and kind—as a master—mild, humane and generouss—obliging as a neighbor—open and social as a friend: Those who knew him as such were his warm admirers, and felt for him that degree of love and respect ever produced by such good qualities. Happy, fortunate, would it be for mankind, were men of such a turn more numerous. Admired, respected, while living, regretted now dead. Mr. STONE's philanthropy of't led him to acts of kindness to others that were finally prejudicial to his interests. And from an act of this kind his end was accelerated. At his age the human frame insensibly feels the effects of time, and added weights hurry on our dissolution. From becoming security for the acts of a neighbor, Mr. Stone was in a short space subjected to the payment of sums, which in a measure, impaired a plentiful and unincumbered estate, and produced annuities, which, praying on his mind, hurried him, if not altogether, yet in an earlier period, to the close which we lament. Pity it is that such should ever be the effect of an act to serve another. But it it is, alas! the lot of humanity.

"But drop the scene, the fatal dye is cast,
Not heaven itself has power o'er the past;
Farewell, dear friend, we much thy loss deplore,
But pleased, suppose thee landed on that shore,
Where virtue ever finds a seat of bliss.
World, endless, happy, far removed from this,
Where man no more will dread a tyrants rod,
But see at once his Saviour and his God"

GENUINE MEDICINES

THE LATE RICHARD LEE, JR OF N YORK,

As prepared from the original recipes in possession of the subscriber, his widow, by whom they are prepared and without whose signature none are genuine.

Obstinate Coughs, Colds, Asthmas, &c.

Are immediately relieved and speedily cured by the use of

HAMILTON'S ELIXER FOR COUGHS.

DEAR bought experience has taught thousands that oily and heated medicines, joined with strong opiates or sleepy drugs, repeated doses of which flatter and deceive the patient for the present, by procuring momentary ease; experience, I say, has taught thousands, that the common opiates and balsamics, as they are called, finally aggravate every disorder of the breast and lungs, in their most distressing symptoms: that they load the stomach and impair the digestion, inflame the whole system, increase the difficulty of breathing and excite fever. But the qualities of this valuable discovery are evinced by perfectly opposite effects. A single trial will prove, that it restores the determination of the fluids to the surface of the body, and brings on the common healthful perspiration—that it dislodges and evacuates the tough viscid phlegm or mucus, strengthens the weakened vessels of the lungs, sheathes the acrimonious humor which irritates them, and finally discharges it. Thus striking at the root of the disorder, the symptoms are of course effectually and permanently conquered, the reverse of common medicines, which weaken the constitution and give strength to the disorder for the sake of moderating for the present some of its painful effects.

To parents who have children afflicted with the whooping cough, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorder to which children are liable. The Elixir is so perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Selected Recommendations.

Being desirous to make public for the good of others, the excellent quality of Hamilton's elixir prepared by the late Mr. Lee, I have sent you the following account of the benefit I have received from it; which I hope will induce others to give it a trial. In consequence of a bruise on the breast received from a fall, my health grew bad, my breathing became very difficult, and frequently I have had suddenly to rise up in my bed with all the horrors of immediate suffocation.—Add so these a constant pain in my breast, and a cough, a great loss of strength & flesh, and you may conceive that my symptoms evidently indicated an approaching consumption. The advice of a most eminent physician was resorted to, and afterwards a second was called in, but without giving me any relief. Another physician who knew me and the circumstances of my case, advised me to give Hamilton's Elixir a trial, saying he had used it in his practice and always found it to do much good. A bottle was procured from Mr. Birch's, and I found relief before I had taken half of it. I continued to use it & was soon strong to attend to business. On taking cold, some of my former symptoms return, but are always removed by a dose or two of the Elixir.

George Benner, jun.

no. 11 Budd street, Philadelphia.

Mrs. H. Lee, New York.

Mr. Abijah Henly, Bridge street, Baltimore, was cured by one bottle of Hamilton's Elixir, of a very complicated disorder, occasioned by a very severe cold caught several months ago. He breathed with the greatest difficulty, and was often thrown into weakening sweats when he attempted to walk any distance, and his voice would frequently fail in such a degree that he could only attempt to whisper. He has been upwards of six weeks without a return of his complaints; and desires to give his public testimony in favor of this invaluable medicine.

Itch Cured,

By once using Lee's Sovereign Ointment. The proprietor informs those persons and families who are suffering under this disease, against the infection of which no person is safe, that if this ointment is used at night on going to bed it never fails to perform a cure by the following morning, as thousands who have used it during the last ten years can testify. The peculiar excellencies of this infallible remedy for the itch, above every other, are the certainty of the cure by a single application; the ingredients being so innocent as to be applied with perfect safety to the tenderest infant; and its being not only free from any offensive smell, but equally agreeable with the pleasantest pomatum.

Dr. Hamilton's Grand Restorative.

Which the inventor confidently recommends as an invaluable medecine for the speedy relief, and permanent cure of various complaints which result from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence in climates unfavorable to the constitution, the immoderate use of tea, frequent intoxication, or any destructive intemperance, the unskilful or frequent use of mercury, the diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life, bad layings in, &c.

HAMILTON'S
CELEBRATED WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Among the symptoms attending Worms are, disagreeable breath, especially in the morning—bad and corrupt gums—itching in the nose, and about the seat—convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes a privation of speech—irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious—purging with slimy and fœtid stools—vomiting—large and hard belly—pains and sickness at the stomach—pains in the head and thighs, with lowness of spirits—slow fever, with small and irregular pulse—a dry cough—excessive thirst—sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, shoul have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

Hahn's true and Genuine German Corn Plaister,

An infallible remedy for Corns; speedily removing them root and branch, without giving pain.

THE first number of this valuable Work is just come to hand and is ready for inspection at the store of the subscriber, in King-street, and with Mr. Triplet, at the coffee-house.

Fully aware of the impositions that have been practised upon the public by strangers soliciting subscriptions from distant places; the Editors invite their examination of a Work perhaps the most useful, entertaining as well as extensive in its kind that has ever been undertaken in any country. And they flatter themselves that the American will by no means shrink from a comparison with the London edition, tho' offered at six dollars per Vol. less.

This number may be considered as a fair specimen of the execution of the work, and will be left a short time for examination, before the 2d number is put to press. After this the subscription will be raised to $2 25 each number; and but a few more copies printed than are sufficient to supply the subscribers, that the early patrons of this valuable Work may have a decided advantage—subsequent applications may therefore come too late.

It is also the intention of the Editor to annex to the last number a complete list of names of the subscribers as the patrons and encouragers of useful knowledge, the arts and literature of the United States.

Valuable Property for Sale.

I will sell the PLANTATION known by the name of MOUNT AIR, lying in the state of Virginia, immediately on the post road, about 9 miles from Alexandria. This farm contains upwards of seven hundred acres the soil is well adapted for wheat, corn or tobacco—there are on the farm two houses, one of which is a commodious dwelling with a good kitchen, and the other is a two story building 32 feet square, shingled and weather boarded but not finished inside, it is situated immediately on the post road and is an excellent stand for a tavern. Mr Edgar M'Carty, of Cedar Grove, who resides near this property, will on application shew it to any person desirous of purchasing.

I will also sell that valuable property known by the name of McCarty's Island, in the Potomac river, about 20 miles above George-Town—this island contains upwards of three hundred acres, the soil is equal in quality to any land in the western country, and is surpassed by none for valuable timber for house and ship building, only about 30 acres are cleared. A further description is deemed unnecessary as it is presumed that any person wanting to purchase will view it. Mr. James Middleton, who lives near this island, will shew it on application. For the above described lands a great bargain will be sold on application to the subscriber residing in George Town.
